

Road Traffic Offences: Fees

While some lawyers charge an hourly rate for their work, we will usually agree a fixed fee for these types of cases. We appreciate that this provides a degree of certainty to you as a client concerning cost.

Our fee for representing you in a straightforward case that concludes in one hearing will be £750 - £1250 plus VAT if your case is in a court in London. If outside London, it would be £1000 -£2000 plus vat. The exact fee will depend upon location, the exact nature of the case, and the seniority of the person who deals with it for you.

. This fee would include: -

- Attendance and preparation
- Considering evidence
- Taking your instructions
- Obtaining a statement from any witness
- Providing advice on likely sentence
- Attendance and representation at a single hearing at the Magistrates' Court
- General advice about any appeal

The fee would not include the following: -

- instruction of any expert witness
- advice, and representation concerning a Special Reasons Hearing, a trial or where you wish to advance an 'Exceptional Hardship' argument , to seek to avoid disqualification from driving

The key stages of your matter are based upon the presumption that you have entered a guilty plea and have a date for your hearing. They will be as follows: -

- Meet or speak over the phone with your lawyer to provide instructions on what happened.
- We will consider initial disclosure, and any other evidence, and provide advice.
- Arrange to take any witness statements if necessary.
- We will conduct any further preparatory work, obtain further instructions from you if needed and answer any follow-up queries you have.
- We cannot provide a timescale as to how long your hearing will take place as this depends on the Court listing for that day.
- We will attend Court on the day and meet with you before the hearing commences.
- We will explain court procedure to you, so you know what to expect, and the sentencing options available to the Court.
- We would anticipate being at Court for this type of case for anything between 1 hour to half a day.
- We would discuss the outcome with you.
- If advice is required on appeal, this will be provided at no additional cost.
